As each student read for his/her book report, he/she should have taken notes on the direct and indirect characterization of a main character using the Interactive Notebook to get examples of each of the 6 forms of characterization. Students should have used these notes to write the report using the rubric. Each example must be labeled with the particular form of characterization and be explained on how the character's personality is revealed. Students must also illustrate one example of characterization they identified. Reports are due on Friday.
